NO COMPROMISE WITH GERMANY, ASSERTS WILSON

President in Speech at New York Says Enemy Must Pay the Price.

DEMANDS JUSTICE FOR ALL

Declares Enemies Have Made It Impossible to Come to Peace Terms—Huns Are Without Honor and Do Not Intend to Do Justice.

New York, Sept. 30.—President Wilson, before an immense audience in the Metropolitan Opera House here last night delivered the most smashing war address of his career.

In words that tingled with the spirit of America in the great struggle, the president reiterated the purposes for which the civilized world is fighting and made it plain that the only peace we can consider is the peace of victory.

The president showed his faith in the nation by devoting only a few words to the Liberty loan. He declared he knew the country would do its part.

He spoke to a wildly enthusiastic audience, which let him know his confidence would not be misplaced.

Text of Address.

The president spoke in part as follows:

"My Fellow Citizens: I am not here to promote the loan. That will be done—ably and enthusiastically done—by the hundreds of thousands of loyal and fearless men and women who have undertaken to present it to you and to our fellow citizens throughout the country, and I have not the least doubt of their complete success, for I know their spirit and the spirit of the country."

"My confidence is confirmed, too, by the thoughtful and experienced co-operation of the bankers here and

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

Again the Government comes to the people of the country with the request that they lend their money, and lend it upon a more liberal scale than ever before, in order that the great war for the rights of America and the liberation of the world may be prosecuted with ever increasing vigor to a victorious conclusion. And it makes the appeal with the greatest confidence because it knows that every day it is becoming clearer and clearer to thinking men throughout the nation that the winning of the war is an essential prerequisite. The money that is held back now will be of little use or value if the war is not won and the selfish masters of Germany are permitted to dictate what America may and may not do. Men in America, besides, have from the first been now dedicated both their lives and their fortunes to the vindication and maintenance of the great principles and objects for which our Government was set up. They will not fail now to show the world for what their wealth was intended.

COUNTY'S QUOTA FOR 4TH LOAN IS $302,000

U. S. Government Has Fixed Amount And Sales Must Be Made.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 27, 1918.—

The quota of Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds to be sold by Breckinridge county, in the campaign that opens Saturday, Sept. 28, and closes Saturday, October 19, covering a period of three weeks is $302,000.

This county's quota in the Third Liberty Loan was $107,750 and the amount of bonds sold totaled $237,100.

The quota for the present campaign is considerably larger than for former loans, and to reach the sales allotted, and go over the top and demonstrate to the world that your county is 100 per cent American depends upon the prompt response of our citizens.

Breckinridge has done its full duty in the past, and now that our boys are on foreign soil, ready to wrest victory from the Hun, there is no question but the loyal citizens of the county will do their full duty.

AMERICANS MUST NOT FAIL

To Measure Up To The Courage And Devotion of Our Men In Europe.

The campaign for the Fourth Liberty Loan begun Sept. 28, and will close Oct. 19. The result of the loan will be watched with keen interest in Europe, not only by our associates in the war against the Teutonic powers but by our enemies. It will be regarded by them as a measure of the American people's support of the war.

The Germans know full well the tremendous weight and significance of popular support of the war, of the people at home backing up the Army in the field. As the loan succeeds our enemies will sorrow, as it falls short they will rejoice. Every dollar subscribed will help and encourage the American soldiers and hurt and depress the enemies of America.

The loan will be a test of the loyalty and willingness of the people of the United States to make sacrifices compared with the willingness of the soldiers to do their part. There must be no failure by the people to measure up to the courage and devotion of our men in Europe. Many of them have given up their lives; shall we at home withhold our money? Shall we spare our dollars while they spare not their lives.

Let every one repeat these words, "I thank God I am an American," every morning and answer to the call of our boys "Over There" and buy bonds and buy Liberty Bonds.

Angie K. Gibson,
Chairman of Publicity of National Woman's Liberty Loan for Breckinridge county.

Hancock County Boy Invalided Home.

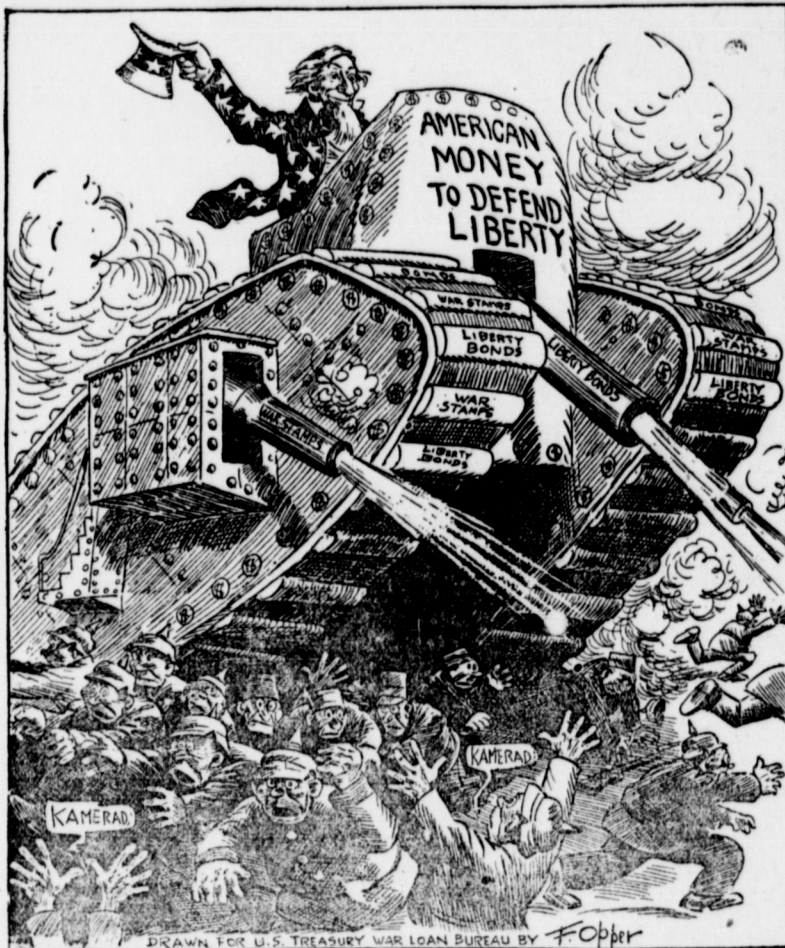

Serg. Fred W. Snyder, who has been in the Regular Army four years and in France nine months, has been invalided home arriving here last week and is now with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Snyder who live near Hawesville.

Serg. Snyder is a nephew of Mrs. Wm. Ashby of this place and he spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ashby. The returned soldier has many interesting things to tell about his experiences on the firing line and one of the most thrilling ones was when his ship on which he sailed for France was attacked by one of Fritzies' torpedo boats, but the attack was quite unsuccessful. He was also in a terrific storm for three days while at sea.

Two Interesting Letters From James Kissam.

Below are two letters which are exceptionally interesting and they come from a former Cloverport boy, James Kissam written to his mother, Mrs. M. M. Kissam of Somerset, Ky.

Dear Mother: We arrived safely after a great trip. It was sure wonderful, with all kinds of adventures. I am very sorry that I cannot go into detail about the trip for military reasons. Will tell about it when I come home. Be sure and let me know if you got the "Safe Arrival Card" and the "King George of England's Welcome Letter."

England is one of the prettiest places. All permanent brick houses and stone walls everywhere.

France sure is a great place no wonder they fight for it.

I hope that all the folks are well. Is grandma still with you? I have lost track of uncle Tom; you wrote that he was crossing the States.

I am well and like everything fine. We have plenty to eat and servicable clothes. Everything here is quite strange but simple enough to adjust oneself easily. I have picked lingo to ask questions of the natives who are quite surprised to see so big an army. The only souvenir a soldier can send home at present is a German steel helmet which I hope to be able to send.

We landed at an English port. Had a fine overland trip and then across to France. Every inch of land both in England and France is utilized.

Must close. Don't worry about me for I am alright and having a better time than in the States. I will write at least one letter and one card per week and want you to write same number. I have written the address correctly on the first page. With love your affectionate son, James E. Kissam.

My Dear Mother: I trust you received my previous cards and one letter since I arrived. Our mail has not been forwarded as yet but I suppose it will follow us shortly.

This camp is situated on a wonderful region, level, rolling landscape as far as the eye can see. No ugly barren spots, always borders of orderly kept trees or shrubs. The open spots are like the meadows in an old painting; the kind I used to look at and think there were no such places. They were undoubtedly French landscapes.

Our voyage was an interesting one. The weather was fine with the exception of two days off foreign coast.

We were attacked by a number of enemy submarines and had the snappiest seafight imaginable and thanks to the coolness of the ships' commanders' and the bravery of the protecting warships and destroyers. Three were reported officially sank without loss to any of our ships.

There was absolutely no panic among any of the soldiers or ships crew during the fight.

It was the coolest work for seriousness of the thing I have ever seen. This is all I may say about the voyage for military reasons.

We landed at an English seaport and traveled inland for a time. England gives the impression of a well ordered city distributed over the country in single blocks. Always in the country and never out of towns.

I cannot recall having seen a single wooden residential building, always permanent stone or brick sometimes stucco and concrete. I saw several straw thatched buildings.

Hedge and stone are the fences and walls there.

England was interesting but we naturally wanted to see our final destination France. We saw the great chalk cliff coastline the first thing and were soon in the French seaport.

Needless to say the French people gave us a great welcome. It was sure strange, marching through the streets of a strange city of a strange country.

It wasn't a strange country after all. It seemed like we had all been here once before sometime long ago.

After a few days in a so called "rest camp" where we did everything but rest we boarded the funny looking little trains and traveled inland. We enjoyed the sights and took it all in. We saw many German prisoners and Allied soldiers of the several different nations and a number of things too numerous to write about.

This camp is one of the largest aviation camps in this section. Airplanes are so common we don't even look up unless some "daredevil" does some hair raising stunt way up in the air thousands of feet and often doing the "raiser" comes down and fumes about forgetting to take a chew of "homespun" or "cut plug" before he went up.

I am well and satisfied and intend to stay that way until its over.

The Y. M. C. A. is doing a wonderful work here as well as anywhere the "boys" may be. I have talked to men who have gone "over the top" and seen the real thing and they say

BRITAIN REFUSES FOE'S TRUCE PLEA

Sofia Told Peace Negotiations
Require Rupture of Relations
With Germany.

BERLIN ALARMED BY MOVE

Publication of Armistice Requests
Causes Panic—General March Says
Collapse Was Due to U. S.
Forces—Allies Advance.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Bulgaria is out of the war, in the opinion of Stepan Panateroff, Bulgarian minister here, who believes that his country definitely is determined to abandon its alliance with Germany and Austria, and, if the entente allies refuse to listen to peace overtures, will appeal to the United States to use its good offices.

London, Sept. 30.—Great Britain has replied to the Bulgarian appeal for an armistice. The government's reply, it is declared, is fully covered in the reply of the allied commander in Macedonia. By this it is perfectly well defined that there will be no suspension of the military operations. At the same time it is made clear to the Sofia government that the opening of peace negotiations requires a complete rupture of Bulgaria's relations with Turkey, Austria and Germany.

Collapse Due to U. S. Forces.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The impending collapse of Bulgaria is the direct result of the concentration of American troops on the western front, General March, chief of staff, said.

Causes Panic in Berlin.

London, Sept. 30.—The publication in Berlin semi-official newspapers of Bulgaria's armistice requests was the cause of the greatest panic in the German capital, according to advices received at Copenhagen and forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph correspondent there.

Serbian troops have reached Ratislava, 15 miles north of Ishtip, and have advanced a considerable distance beyond Kochana, toward the Bulgarian border.

Serbians Reach Ratislava.

Serbian troops continue to press the retreating Bulgarians and score important gains of ground, the Serbian war office reports. The Serbian forces are pushing on from Vales toward Uskup. The troops defending Vales were taken prisoner. The city and fortress of Vales, one of the important bases of the Bulgarian forces in southern Serbia on the Vardar river, has been captured by Serbian troops, the Serbian war office announces confirming a previous report.

the Y. M. C. A. dugouts are practically on the firing line.

So always give the "Y" a boost when you have a chance. And always look out for the well informed individual usually women who are not responsible for what they say, who tell about the horrible ways the American army is getting used. The morale of our troops and a thousand other lies that are hatched out by Hun sympathizers. It is no child's play over here by any means but stories and rumors eat the heart out of our nation and we can't go back and we must not show "yellow."

If the French can bear up under what has happened surely America can follow her example.

I hope to be able to spend a few days in Paris during my leave of absence for one has not seen France unless they have been in the metropolis. I hope to have a few curios to send home soon. I must, must close. Trusting this finds all well at home.

Write at least once a week regardless of when I write which I will try to be as prompt. Write everything you can and don't worry about me for I am a regular "roughneck" now. Love to all. Your son, James.

WITH THE HOME BOYS IN SERVICE

From Joseph Stone.

Pvt. Joseph Stone, the son of Mrs. C. W. Stone and a brother of Ira D. Stone who has just landed in France, has been on foreign soil for three months. He formerly lived at McDaniels before becoming a soldier.

Dear Homefolks: Just a few lines to let you know I am getting along fine and like this country better every day I had a letter from Pearl one from you, one from Ira, one from Viola and one also from my girl in Canton, Ohio, you don't know how glad I was to get some news from the States, please write once or twice a week and I will do the same when I don't have so much to do. I have written you two letters since I have been over seas. I have written Gola a letter. Tell Marie and Ruby when they see her tell her hello for me. Please write often and tell me all of the news, for I sure love news from home.

Please excuse this short letter as I am short of paper at present.

Please remember that I think of you often and I really don't think it will be but a few months until I will be with you all. From your loving son and brother, Joseph W. Stone. Mj Co. 146 Inf. American Expeditionary Forces, A. P. O. 763.

From S. M. Rowland.

S. M. Rowland of Breckinridge county writes the following letter to his sister, Miss Rose Rowland of Hardinsburg, Route No. 3. The Breckinridge News was obliged to omit some of the letter as it gave out detailed information of the aircraft and appurtenances used at Government aviation schools which is forbidden to be published by the press.

Priv. Rowland entered the service July 22, his first training was received at Camp Taylor and thence to the present camp where he is making good in the Radio and Telephone school.

Camp McClellan, Sept. 21, 1918. Dear sister and all the rest: This leaves me feeling fine and dandy. Am sending some of my photos; they are a little sideways, but I guess you can tell they were aimed for me.

I received your letter and cake today. The cake was the best thing I have tasted since I left home. I gave our battery cook a piece of it. (We have a new battery cook and a good one) and he said it was the best cake he had tasted since he had been in camp.

I am still in school, have learned to send messages with the projector and buzzer and two or three other ways.

I have gotten entirely over the measles and they didn't have any bad effect on me. We, the telephone men of the 25th Reg. have been doing practical field work since last Thursday, we are building telephone lines between the different Regiments, different Batteries and Headquarters. We do not have to work on Saturday evening but five of us volunteered to work this evening and to-morrow, so they furnished us with a horse and saddle apiece and to-night our Lieutenant told us that we would be the first to receive advancement in the school.

I like the work fine and the officers as well. They treat us as equals and are careful that we do not do too much work.

We want to get the whole system of lines in working order by next Tuesday, as the canoneers will have their batteries planted and camouflaged and be ready to go to firing on that day.

There are three big aeroplanes at work over the range.

Everything begins to look like business down here now, but I believe I can come home if I make good in school tho they are not giving furloughs to any one now.

Well I guess I had better quite for this time. Love to all from, Sam.

A Harned Boy in France.

This letter is from Newton Williams, a Harned boy who is over in France helping to down autocracy.

Dear Father and Mother: A few lines this morning to let you hear from me. This leaves me well and fine hope to find you the same. I haven't heard from you all for some time. I got your letter you and Lura Butler wrote the 7th day of July. I write a letter every week and if you can I want you to write every week, so I can hear from you all oftener. When ever you write put on your letters A. E. F. Co. K. 120th Inf. U. S. A., N. Y., then I will get them sooner.

Well we are having some awful warm weather at present the warmest we have had this summer.

You wanted to know something about the country over here it is about all level, what I have seen there are no rocks, some hills, but they are not rocky there is no timber to amount to anything around here. The ground is very rich; they grow wheat the finest I ever saw and oats and beets. They grow some tobacco, but it is not like ours, they don't let it get ripe; they top it on the ground and pull the leaves off before it gets as long as long as our prime leaves. They haven't got many farming implements.

Well as I haven't got any place to write, I am holding the paper on my leg and writing this letter. Answer real soon and write every week. Lovingly your son, Newton Williams.

Sgt. Langley Is Afraid
He Will Never Get To The Front.

Sgt. Grover Langley of the Signal Corps, Le Havre, France, who before going over lived at McDaniels, Ky., writes the following to Mrs. Langley who has remained in that city until Sgt. Langley's return.

U. S. Army Post Office, No. 760, Sept. 4, 1918. Dear Gola: Am a great deal better humor today than I have been for some time, I received three or four letters from you this morning and while they were all back numbers, they explained what I failed to get from your other letters or I should say your other letter. You no doubt received any number of my letters by this time, so know that I was writing.

We are having some beautiful weather here now, though it is commencing to feel a little like fall. I certainly do dread to see winter come on as I never could stand cold weather. Am afraid that it will be a little hard on the people at home account of having to use so much coal in the manufacture of munitions of war. I certainly do not like the idea of the folks at home having to stand any hardships.

I never did tell you about my trip across from New York. We were only eight and a half days on the water, and we had a real nice trip across. The weather was ideal, no rough sea or anything. There was not a man sick on the whole trip. The ship was well armed and I do not think a Sub could have got us had they tried. We had several alarms and a number of shots were fired at supposed submarines, though I do not think they were really Subs. We landed in exactly eight and one half days from the time we set sail. I have seen quite a little of France since I have been here. Will tell you all about it when I get back, would try to tell you now but do not know if it would be permitted.

Le Havre, is a pretty nice town though it is pretty quiet. I do not know what the population is, but it is something like Springfield. It is on the Coast, which helps some. You know I always did like the Sea Coast. We are so far from the front line that I do not even consider myself in the war. It is about as exciting here as it used to be in Joliet, so you see you need have no fear for my safety. I have not seen a German, since I left the U. S. except prisoners and it does not look as though I will, though of course there is no way of knowing. It would sure get my "Goat" if I should come all the way over here and then never get to the front.

Oh they can't beat the Yanks, you know we were never beaten and naturally we are not going to let the Hun, do it. He has a very very poor chance in my opinion, the biggest mistake he ever made was when he got the Yanks camping on his trail. I only wish I could get a shot at him, you know I promised you his scalp and it commences to look as though some other fellow was going to beat me to it. Well such is war. Well good bye, will write again soon. Yours ever, Grover.

A United States Regular For Over 25 Years.

Serg. Chas. Hanks, a former Stephenson boy who has been in the U. S. Regular Army for more than twenty-five years has landed with his regiment in France.

When he returns from France, Serg. Hanks will have seen a large part of the country. He has been in the Philippines twice and on the Mexican border, besides numerous other places. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hanks of Stephenson, and a brother of Mrs. John Weisenberg of this city.

LETTERS from our boys in the trenches and from the women in canteen and other war work, all bring to us the same message—SEND US NEWS FROM HOME.

World news is all right, but OUR BOYS want NEWS OF THIS TOWN. They want the home newspaper. Publishers are prevented from sending their papers free to anyone, even boys in the service. Consequently a national movement has been started by Col. William Boyce Thompson of New York, who is acting as President of the Home Paper Service of America to give the boys what they are calling for. Every community is joining the movement. Let us see that our boys are not forgotten.

Send to the publisher of this newspaper whatever amount of money you can—5 cents or $50.00. We will publish a list each week of those contributing, and the amounts contributed.

Every cent received will be used to send this paper to our boys at the front. If at the end of the war, there is any surplus, it will be turned over to the local Red Cross Committee.

There is no profit in this to the publisher—even in normal times, subscriptions are not sold at a profit. With war prices prevailing, and the high rate of postage on papers sent to France, our cost will scarcely be covered by our full subscription price.

Remember that over in France, some brave soldier or sailor from this town—perhaps even some splendid woman working within sound of the guns—is depending on you to "KEEP THE HOME LOVE KINDLED."

They are calling to YOU from "Over There"
GIVE WHAT YOU CAN
The Breckinridge News.

OUR PARTICULAR BUSINESS.

The chief business of every man, woman and child in America to-day and for the next sixteen days, is to do all within our power towards the selling of the six billion dollars worth of Liberty Bonds of the fourth issue. Whatever else may come or go, it is expedient that we have uppermost in our thoughts, our ambition and our work, the sale of these bonds.

It is possible, because all things are possible to those who want to believe, for every man and woman to buy a bond. The banks in the United States make this thing possible by allowing a person who has not enough to buy a bond at one time, to pay down ten per cent for the first payment then twenty, twenty and thirty per cent respectively until the bond is paid for. Of course by buying this way the banks charge some interest which is legitimate business. some interest which is legitimate business.

An idea of some of the expenses our Government has during the war can be ascertained when we think of it costing $2,040 to support each American soldier, and we have more than 1,300,000 of our soldiers in France which means they will cost $2,652,000,000. Official figures show that for the fiscal year 1918 the Government spent $12,696,702,471.14. Then we wonder why Uncle Sam needs six billion.

It is true the money can be gotten by taxation with no compensation granted the donor, but how much more American it is to give it by the mere asking. How much more of an inspiration it must be to those boys over there to know that the folks back home were glad to lend their money and were not forced to give it up.

The six billion dollars worth of bonds will be sold even if it is twice as much as any previous bond sales, because Americans have set their minds and hearts on winning this war and win it we will by every man and woman doing by our boys as we would be done by were we in their places.

If we will impress it upon the minds of the school children that it takes seven pounds of nut shell to make one gas mask, perhaps they will take more interest in saving the shells. The gas masks are made from the carbon of peach, prune and plum pits mostly; and sometimes the seeds from dates and olives are used together with shells and whole nuts from hickory nuts, butter-nuts, English and native walnuts.

Mothers will begin now getting ready their soldier son's Christmas boxes. If they intend them to reach their destination by Dec. 25, they must leave the States not later than Nov. 15. Why not include a six months subscription to The Breckenridge News in the boxes for the boys who have gone from Breckinridge county?

You will notice in this issue of The Breckinridge News is devoted almost entirely to the selling of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds and news from the soldiers—the two main topics of the day.

It's easy enough to talk patriotism and write it too—but it's another thing to do without something and spend your money for bonds, besides giving a son. That kind of patriotism speaks for itself.

Telephone Courtesy

The people who get the greatest amount of good out of their telephone are those who talk over it as though face to face.

Courtesy smooths out difficulties and promotes the promptest possible connections.

The operators of the BELL System are trained to be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet with patience and politeness on the part of the telephone users.

The fact that you cannot see the operator or the other party should not cause you to overlook this. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE CHAMPAGNE, July 18 (United Press).—After killing or capturing the crews of four machine guns and raking a German-filled trench with his automatic rifle until the survivors surrendered, Sergt. J. F. Brown walked into American Headquarters late yesterday with 189 prisoners.

I am sorry, sir, that I was unable to bring in all I had," he said in reporting, "but four of the wounded died on me."

Brown, separated from his platoon, was the only one of the survivors to be captured.

Sergeant Brown was hard to satisfy

Four machine-gun crews to his credit was a pretty fair record for one day's work. But why leave a perfectly good trench half filled with Germans? Brown didn't.

The hail of machine-gun bullets could not stop him. He was not thinking of them. Shrapnel was bursting all around him. He did not heed. His rifle was so hot he couldn't touch it, so he laid it in the hollow of his arm and kept on firing; the huns kept on yelling "Kamerad!" and throwing down their guns. Brown forgot danger and death, he forgot that he was alone against a hundred and fifty Germans. He forgot everything but his job—Victory. And he walked proudly into camp with one hundred and fifty-nine prisoners.

Believing that it is the duty of every person who enjoys the freedom and privileges of citizenship in our great Country to do his utmost to help win the war, the following firms and individuals have patriotically contributed the money to pay for this and other advertisements of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

We've got a big job over here, too. We must provide guns and shells and food and clothing for men with the spirit of Sergeant Brown—to send them forward to Victory. Let's do our job as he did his—fearlessly, persistently and quickly. Brown didn't wait to do his duty—why should you?

GREAT LOAN DRIVE ON

Nation Begins Task of Raising
$6,000,000,000.Two Subscriptions Totalling $55,000,000
Announced in New York—$3,650,000 in Hour at Chicago.

Washington, Sept. 30.—America set itself to the task of raising a loan of $6,000,000,000 in three weeks.

Although this was twice the minimum of any previous Liberty loan and by far the greatest war credit ever undertaken by any nation, treasury department officials were certain that the sum would be oversubscribed. Their confidence was expressed in the announcement that the surplus would be allotted.

Officials felt that it was a favorable augury for the fourth Liberty loan that the campaign got under way just when the American army was pressing forward in a great offensive in France and Bulgaria was suing for peace, starting the long-expected disintegration of the central powers.

Subscriptions to the loan began pouring in at all federal reserve banks. Many communities had oversubscribed their quotas even before the campaign officially began. Thousands of workers were out early and in practically every city, town and hamlet in the land. Special ceremonies of one sort or another ushered in the drive. Posters everywhere exhorted readers to back the boys in France with Liberty Bonds.

In Washington the campaign began with exercises on the steps of the treasury building. Miss Gertrude Farrar sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "The Marseillaise," and a concert was given by the Marine band. Former President Taft, members of the cabinet, senators and representatives and foreign diplomats were guests of honor. The 30,000 employees of the treasury department bureaus had been given a holiday so they might attend.

So eager were some communities to make strides toward their subscription goal that they sent solicitors to work at the stroke of midnight.

A million and a half men, women and children are enrolled in an army of active campaigners to place a bond in every home.

The whole vast machinery got into motion smoothly.

Indications are that the American people now realize more than in any of the three previous loan campaigns the intimate relation between government bonds and the fighting by American soldiers in France, and that those spared the hardships of army life must economize to buy bonds.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Subscriptions of more than $236,000 a minute poured into the Chicago fund during the first 15 minutes of the campaign, before the whistles stopped blowing. Some, too busy to face the east, were writing out their pledges. At the end of the first hour $3,650,000 had been subscribed.

New York, Sept. 30.—Two subscriptions, totalling $55,000,000, were announced when the second federal reserve district committee formally inaugurated its drive for the fourth Liberty loan at nine o'clock Saturday.

NAPS BETWEEN BALLOTS

Election Judge Sleeps on Sidewalk
During Quiet Spell.

During the recent primary election in Kansas City things became so quiet in a North side ward that Edward O'Callaghan, a judge of elections, proceeded to take a "nap" on the sidewalk between votes. He slept on the sidewalk with his challenge book for a pillow.

When a voter came in his fellow election officials would awaken him, and after the vote was cast O'Callaghan would go back to sleep. The precinct was, in former years, one of the busiest places in the city.

Woman Kills Big Bear.

Grant county, New Mexico, has a woman who has qualified as a big game hunter. She is Mrs. W. S. Soule, wife of a sawmill operator north of Pinos Altos. Mrs. Soule arrived in Silver City the other day from the mountains with a 500-pound brown bear. Mrs. Soule, while riding horseback through the mountains, came upon the bear on the trail. A shot at 150 yards brought him down.

NO COMPROMISE

everywhere—who are lending their invaluable aid and guidance.

"No man or woman who has really taken in what this war means can hesitate to give to the very limit of what they have.

"And it is my mission here to try to make clear once more what the war really means. You will need no other stimulation.

"Individual statesmen may have started the conflict, but neither they nor their opponents can stop it as they please. It has become a peoples' war, and peoples of all sorts and races, of every degree of power and variety of fortune, are involved in its sweeping processes of change and settlement.

"We came into it when its character had become fully defined and it was plain that no nation could stand apart or be indifferent to its outcome. Its challenge drove to the heart of everything we cared for or lived for. The voice of the war had become clear and gripped our hearts.

"Our brothers from many lands, as well as our own murdered dead under the sea, were calling to us, and we responded, fiercely and of course.

"We accepted the issues of the war as facts, not as any group of men either here or elsewhere had defined them, and we can accept no outcome which does not squarely meet and settle them.

The War's Issues.

"Those issues are these:

"Shall the military power of any nation or group of nations be suffered to determine the fortunes of peoples over whom they have no right to rule except the right of force?

"Shall strong nations be free to wrong weak nations and make them subject to their purpose and interest?

"Shall people be ruled and dominated, even in their own internal affairs, by arbitrary and irresponsible force, or by their own will and choice?

"Shall there be a common standard of right and privilege for all peoples and nations or shall the strong do as they will and the weak suffer without redress?

"Shall the assertion of right be haphazard and by casual alliance or shall there be a common concert to oblige the observance of common rights?

"No man, no group of men, chose these to be the issues of the struggle. They are the issues of it, and they must be settled by no arrangement or compromise or adjustment of interests, but definitely and once for all and with a full and unequivocal acceptance of the principle that the interest of the weakest is as sacred as the interest of the strongest.

"This is what we mean when we speak of a permanent peace, if we speak sincerely, intelligently, and with a real knowledge and comprehension of the matter we deal with.

"We are all agreed that there can be no peace obtained by any kind of bargain or compromise with the governments of the central empires, because we have dealt with them already and have seen them deal with other governments that were party to this struggle, at Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest.

"They have convinced us that they are without honor and do not intend justice. They observe no covenants, accept no principle but force and their own interests.

"We cannot 'come to terms' with them. They have made it impossible.

"The German people must by this time be fully aware that we cannot accept the word of those who forced this war upon us. We do not think the same thoughts or speak the same language of agreement.

"It is of capital importance that we should be explicitly agreed that no peace shall be obtained by any kind of compromise or abatement of the principles we have avowed as the principles for which we are fighting. There should exist no doubt about that. I am, therefore, going to take the liberty of speaking with the utmost frankness about the practical implications that are involved in it.

Foe Must Pay Price.

"If it be in deed and in truth the common object of the governments associated against Germany and of the nations whom they govern, as I believe it to be, to achieve by the coming settlements a secure and lasting peace, it will be necessary that all who sit down at the peace table shall come ready and willing to pay the price, the only price, that will procure it; and ready and willing also to create in some virile fashion the only instrumentality by which it can be made certain that the agreements of the peace will be honored and fulfilled.

"That price is impartial justice in every item of settlement, no matter whose interest is crossed; not only impartial justice, but also the satisfaction of the several peoples whose fortunes are dealt with. That indispensable instrumentality is a league or nations formed under covenants that will be efficacious.

"Without such instrumentality, by which the peace of the world can be guaranteed, peace will rest in part upon the word of outlaws and only upon that word. For Germany will have to redeem her character, not only by what happens at the peace table but what follows.

"And, as I see it, the constitution of that league of nations and the clear definition of its objects must be a part, in a sense the most essential part, of the peace settlement itself. It cannot be formed now. If formed now, it would be merely a new alliance confined to the nations associated against a common enemy. It is not likely that it could be formed after that settlement.

"It is necessary to guarantee the peace, and the peace cannot be guaranteed as an afterthought. The reason, to speak in plain terms again, why it must be guaranteed, is that there will be parties to the peace whose promises have proved untrustworthy, and means must be found in connection with the peace settlement itself to remove that source of insecurity.

"It would be folly to leave the guarantee to the subsequent voluntary action of the government we have seen destroy Russia and deceive Roumania.

Particulars of Terms.

"These, then are some of the particulars, and I state them with the greater confidence because I can state them authoritatively as representing this government's interpretation of its own duty with regard to peace:

"FIRST—The impartial justice meted out must involve no discrimination between those to whom we wish to be just and those to whom we do not wish to be just. It must be a justice that plays no favorites and knows no standard but the equal rights of the several peoples.

"SECOND—No special or separate interest of any single nation or any group of nations can be made the basis of any part of the settlement which is not consistent with the common interest of all.

"THIRD—There can be no leagues or alliances or special covenants and understandings within the general and common family of the league of nations.

"FOURTH—And more specifically, there can be no special, selfish, economic combinations within the league and no employment of any force of economic boycott for exclusion except as the power of economic penalty by exclusion from the markets of the world may be vested in the league of nations itself as a means of discipline and control.

"FIFTH—All international agreements and treaties of every kind must be made known in their entirety to the rest of the world.

"Special alliances and economic rivalries and hostilities have been the prolific sources in the modern world of the plans and passions that produce war. It would be an insincere as well as insecure peace that did not exclude them in definite and binding terms.

"We still read Washington's immortal warning against 'entangling alliances' with full comprehension and answering purpose. But only special and limited alliances entangle and we recognize and accept the duty of a new day in which we are permitted to hope for a general alliance which will avoid entanglements and clear the air of the world for common understandings and the maintenance of common rights.

Answers Groundless Doubting.

"I have made this analysis of the international situation which the war has created, not, of course, because I doubted whether the leaders of the great nations and peoples with whom we are associated were of the same mind and entertained a like purpose, but because the air every now and again gets darkened by mists and groundless doubtings and mischievous perversions of counsel and it is necessary once and again to sweep all the irresponsible talk about peace intrigues and weakening morale and doubtful purpose on the part of those in authority utterly, and, if need be, unceremoniously aside and say things in the plainest words that can be found, even when it is only to say over again what has been said before, quite as plainly if in less unvarnished terms.

"National purposes have fallen more and more into the background and the common purpose of enlightened mankind has taken their place. "Plain workaday people have demanded almost every time they came together, and are still demanding, that the leaders of their governments declare to them plainly what it is—exactly what it is—that they were seeking in this war and what they think the items of the final settlement should be.

"They are not yet satisfied with what they have been told. They still seem to fear that they are getting what they ask for only in statesmen's

IS YOUR DESK MAHOGANY?

More Than Fifty Different Woods Are Put on the Market and Sold
Under That Name.

The name "mahogany" is applied commercially to more than fifty different woods. Perhaps half the lumber now sold under that name is not true mahogany, for the demand greatly exceeds the supply.

The tree is only native to the limited area between southern Florida and northern South America. Nowhere else does it really flourish. But the public will have mahogany. Women want it for furniture, business men prefer it for office fixtures, and teak and mahogany are rivals in the affections of shipbuilders. Therefore substitutes flourish.

It is not surprising that the real wood is so expensive when it is learned that it takes from 100 to 150 years for a mahogany tree to reach merchantable size.

Most of the substitutes bear little more than a general resemblance to the genuine wood, but skillful finishing makes them very much alike. Experts can usually distinguish between them by the aid of an ordinary pocket lens. The efforts of the superficial, however, to judge the wood by its appearance, weight, grain and color often lead them astray.—Popular Science Monthly.

terms—only in the terms of territorial arrangements and the divisions of power and not in terms of broad vision, justice and mercy and peace and the satisfaction of those deep-seated longings of oppressed and distracted men and women and enslaved peoples that seem to them the only things worth fighting a war for that engulfs the world.

Believes Allies' Aims Same.

"But I, for one, am glad to attempt the answer again and again in the hope that I may make it clearer that my one thought is to satisfy those who struggle in the ranks and are, perhaps, above all others entitled to a reply whose meaning no one can have any excuse for misunderstanding. If he understands the language in which it is spoken or can get some one to translate it correctly into his own.

"And I believe that the leaders of the governments with which we are associated will speak, as they have occasion, as plainly as I have tried to speak.

"Peace drives' can be effectively utilized and silenced only by showing that every victory of the nations associated against Germany brings the nations nearer the sort of peace which will bring security and reassurance to all peoples and make the recurrence of another struggle of pitiless force and bloodshed forever impossible and that nothing else can.

MAZER'S TOOTH SPECIALTY
Dept. X, 2007 So. 5th St. Philadelphia, Pa.Calls All Cows by Their First NamesW. E. SKINNER,
General Manager of the National Dairy Show to Be Held at Columbus, O., Oct. 10-19.

Years of experience in handling large dairy and cattle shows throughout the United States has given Mr. Skinner a first hand knowledge of practically every prize winning cow in the United States.

From the veteran of a dozen prize rings to the yearling being shown for the first time, he knows them all by name, their breed and their probable performances.

SWISS CHEESE NOW
MADE IN AMERICA

There was a day when "Swiss cheese made in America" was supposed to be a joke. That day has passed. One of the most interesting and informing exhibits which will characterize the National Dairy Show at Columbus, Ohio, October 10-19, will be several tons of cheeses made in this country after famous formulae which have old world reputation.

Swiss cheese, Roquefort, Formage de Brie and Limberger cheese are all made in the United States better and more cheaply than they ever were made in Europe. An air of quaintness will be given the exhibition by having it in charge of young women garbed in the costume of the countries which once produced these cheeses for the American table.

High cheese of this sort may be considered a war industry. American manufacturers have made such progress that aside from the fact that European dairy herds are depleted almost to the point of extinction, it is doubtful whether European manufacturers will be able in many years to come to get back the market they formerly enjoyed in the United States.

IMPORTANT MEETINGS
AT THE DAIRY SHOW

Columbus, Ohio. — A number of important conventions will be held in conjunction with the National Dairy Show, in Columbus, Ohio, October 10-19. They are The International Milk Dealers, October 14-15, The National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, October 17-18, and The American Dairy Science Association.

NATION DEPENDS
UPON DAIRY COWThis Truth Is Being Sent Home to the American People.

INDUSTRY MUST BE SUPPORTED

North America Almost the Only Land
Where the Dairy Business Has Not Been Crippled to the Point of Extermination — Federal Government
Lending Its Support to Spread This Message.Without the dairy cow we cannot rear children.
Without children we cannot exist as a nation.

North America is almost the only land where the dairy industry has not been crippled to the point of annihilation.

These three reasons, according to M. D. Munn, of St. Paul, Minnesota, one of the principal live stock men of the country and vice president of the National Dairy Show, are the reasons why the entire country must awake to the need of supporting the dairy industry as a whole.

These facts are being emphasized in connection with the National Dairy Show at Columbus, Ohio, October 10-19, when the government will lend its strong support in sending home these truths to the people of the country.

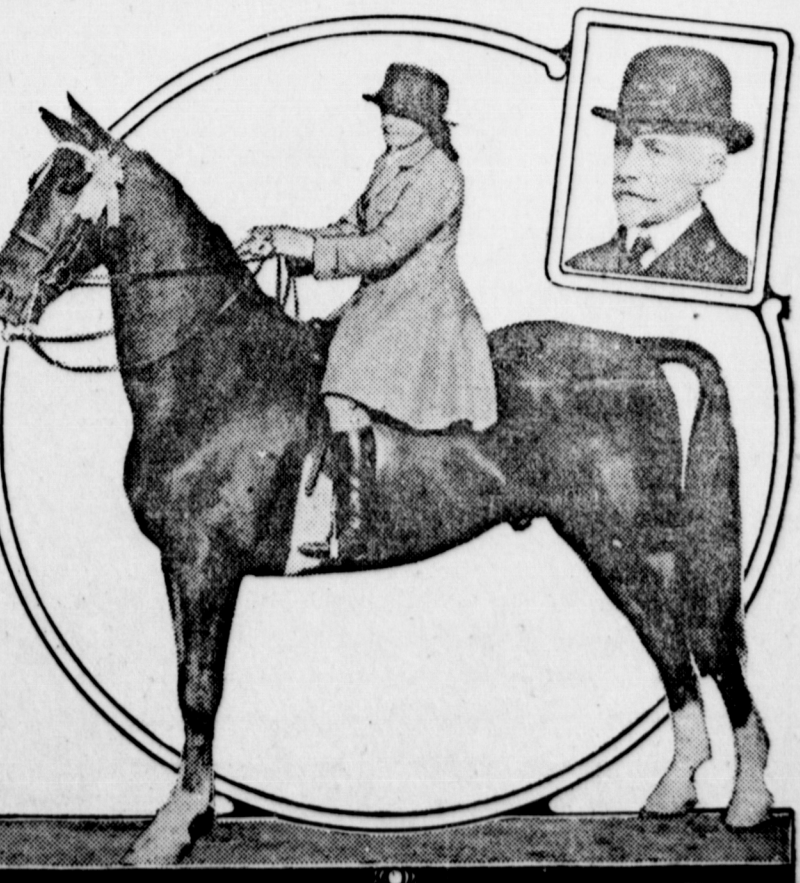

According to Mr. Munn the vital lesson, which men like Dr. E. V. McCollum, of Johns Hopkins, are giving to the public here and there, must come home to the nation as a whole, if the United States is to be spared the misery which holds almost all of Europe in its thrall.

There are great areas in Europe where a man cannot buy a glass of milk for any amount of money. Every drop they have of the precious fluid is saved for children. And there are areas of devastated Belgium and elsewhere where the mortality among children is 90%. Think of it! It is the purpose of the National Dairy Show to encourage the discouraged dairymen of the United States to labor on.

There are, in round numbers, in this country, 23,000,000 dairy cows and these produce 89,000,000,000 pounds of milk. Large as this amount may appear, it is not sufficient for one full glass per capita for the population of this country per day, when other dairy products are taken out of the total supply.

Last year, over 19% of all food eaten in this country came from the dairy cow. In addition to this, the dairy cow is almost the sole support of soil fertility on the average farm. Agriculture would almost disappear from the United States within five years if the dairy industry were annihilated. At least, agriculture would be so seriously crippled that anything like commercial prosperity anywhere in the land would be out of the question.

The National Dairy Show is the one opportunity to bring the men of the country and the housewives of the nation together to give them the benefit of the collective wisdom of the United States in reference to the dairy cow. Just now dairymen everywhere are immensely in need of encouragement.

Blue-Blooded Horses Aid In Winning the War on Huns

THE Federal Government has recognized the importance of scientific horse breeding and the relation of the horse show to the industry by granting special railroad concessions to the animals that will be shown at the Horse Show, which will be the night feature of the National Dairy Show at Columbus, O., Oct. 10-19. The first three days of the show will be given over to Percherons. The week of Oct. 14-19 will be devoted to saddle and harness horses, including jumpers, hunters and cavalry mounts.
